1) The listed contract performance period is listed as only 30 days. You can't likely even get the materials manufactured in 30 days. Here's a more realistic time line: 4-6 weeks carpet production time required, about a week for transportation and approximately 6 weeks worth of installation is most likely what you should be expecting.

A: Period of Performance will remain 30 calendar days. All work, including clean-up must be complete by January 31, 2013.

2) The color coded floor plan that was in the original document didn't fully incorporate the main stairwell – only the landings. Your best performance option would be to install what's commonly referred to as a commercially rated double flange stair nosing which will accommodate professionally the use of the carpet tiles specified. I can suggest the Johnsonite Rubber style:

VIRCN-XX-A, VIVCD-XX or SVCD-XX-A, they vary by width dimensions vertically and horizontally. If you need additional information on these I can gladly and easily provide this.

A: Add the following clarification to the original scope of work: At main stairwell, vinyl double flange stair nosing will be installed, color to match carpet, with manufacturer type/color submitted to FAA for approval.

3) Section "J" wage determination rates. Please clarify if these rates are for regular hours work or if there's a multiplier to convert to overtime rates that are accurate for Davis Bacon wages.

A: The contract is covered by the Service Contract Act. The Wage Decision supplied is for reference only, and is the minimum rates for regular work hours. Overtime rates are a minimum of time and a half.

4) Recycling of the existing 12' carpeting. Is this service MANDATORY and will "chain of evidence" be a requirement for this service. There will be a small cost associated with this effort, if it is required, for this contract. Does this line item need to be broken out separately from the balance of our total bid?

A: Not required.

5) There was a request from the group as a whole, that 1/8"=1' scalable drawings be provided to the meeting attendees who provide e-mail addresses on the sign in sheets. Hopefully these could be issued yet this week.

A: Attached
